Congeniality makes our school tick. The students are friendly and courteous to each other. They try to help each other with the many problems that confront high school students. Junior and senior high school students share the same study area in our library. The students support the extracurricular events by either participating or being a spectator. This year school spirit is an essential part of the school calendar.

The grind is made easier through the cooperation and the collaboration of the faculty with the student body. Most of the students are interested in learning and try to respect the teachers. The teachers are willing to give individual help and treat the pupils as young adults. Some of the faculty have interest in extracurricular activities such as the Chess Club, Analect, Film Club, Chorus, and Pep Club.

Teachers as a group get along well with each other. All faculty work together to improve the school and facilities. They put much work into making this school what it is. What we lack in facilities, they make up for in knowledge and guidance for the students.

The people of our town and neighboring towns contribute to our school system by attending our outside activities such as plays, basketball games, and other events throughout the year. In addition the townspeople support our school by offering scholarships and awards from individuals and groups.

If it is a question of making or breaking Burgy High, the students, faculty, and community will make it by working together.

Dedication

In past years the Tattler has been dedicated to a person with outstanding characteristics. This year the Senior Class decided to dedicate its yearbook to Williamsburg High School and to all the people who make it function smoothly. Our school, although not perfect in every respect, offers a well-balanced curriculum with dedicated teachers. Everyone works to put our school in a well-respected position in our town. We, the class of 1969, wish to dedicate this yearbook to Williamsburg High School and to all the future graduating classes.

Business Courses Gain Importance Each Year

Many more students are taking the business course than ever before. This course includes a wide variety of subjects from which a student may choose.

For one thing, the field of Computer Programming is growing more and more each day and a person need not have a college education to enter this field. Typing and mathematics, two subjects offered in the business course, are helpful in preparing for this career. Another career which still has a great demand for workers is the secretarial field. Shorthand and again typing are the necessary requirements for this career.

Sylvia Shea gets help during typing class from Miss O'Day, the newest teacher in the Business Department.

The Applied Science Class enjoys an informal discussion with instructor, Mr. Buck.

In an age of scientific advances, courses in science have become increasingly important to the high school student. The curriculum at Williamsburg provides many choices for the student who is interested in the fields of science. Whether he chooses Applied Science, Earth Science, biology, chemistry, or physics, he can gain valuable knowledge through study, experimentation, and investigation.

Science Leads To New Developments

Above: Mr. Buck, the latest addition to the science department, teaches chemistry and physics.

Excellent Instruction Is Given In Mathematics

Zell Mitchell and Sandy Suchecki learn the fundamentals of math.

Mathematics has always been an important part of any high school curriculum. Courses in mathematics at Williamsburg include General Mathematics, Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, and Trigonometry. The Mathematics Department has established an outstanding record for providing each student with excellent college preparation which comes through a solid understanding of the basic principles of each course.

Mr. Bjorklund explains a difficult equation to the Math IV Class.

Our History Courses Are Outstanding

Mr. Cannon gives his point of view on the Mexican War

Mr. Cannon and Mr. Tonet instruct their students in U.S. History and Current Events. Mr. Butterfield teaches Ancient History "like it was." Especially relevant and challenging this year, the history courses require much outside reading and research.

United States History students have to listen carefully in class and take good notes to make the grade.

Languages Advance Our Knowledge

Right: Caroline Madison and John Otis ponder over French pronunciation.

The language courses this year are closely related with the culture of France, Germany, and Ancient Rome. Mrs. De-Nood's classes study French literature, Mr. Matz's sing German folk songs, and Mr. Butterfield's discuss Coriolanus and gladitorial fights. Audio-visual aids are used in the courses to present the sounds and sights of those countries more vividly to the students.

French pronunciation comes easily to Donna Russell, Nina Korowski, and Charlene Leduc.

Honors Are Given To Outstanding Student

Elaine Clark and Jean Pomeroy are this year's winners of the Betty Crocker Homemaking Test and the D.A.R. Good Citizen's Award respectively.

The hard-working and aspiring student at Williamsburg may gain special honors and educational opportunities in the course of the school year. A student who wants to learn more about the processes of our government may be given the opportunity to participate in either Model Congress or Student Government. Those students who attain scholastic averages of eighty-five or better and demonstrate service, leadership, and character may qualify for membership in the National Honor Society. For the senior girls, two additional honors are possible. One senior girl is chosen from the results of the Betty Crocker Homemaking Test as the girl with the most domestic skill and understanding. Finally, the senior girl who best displays the qualities of dependability, service, and leadership receives the D.A.R. Good Citizen's Award.

This year Brian Rapalee, Peter Golash, Edward Parsons, Nancy Pittsinger are members of the National Honor Society.

ACTIVITIES

The Seniors Take Revenge On The Freshmen

Scott Davidson and Robert Nehring are fed Jello by Marlene Sporbert and Jean Clark in the Jello Eating Contest.

In the first days of the school year, the Freshman Reception at Williamsburg High School was held with the greatest of success and good will. Unlike past years, hazing was prohibited at any time other than at the reception, so when the time finally came, the vengeful seniors laid their wrath upon the freshmen with glee. Some of the "tortures" included walking blindfolded across a "sea" of peanut butter, looking for a grape in a whipped-cream pie, and eating cream covered bananas. Understandably, the upperclassmen enjoyed the whole spectacle, but it was noted that many freshmen themselves smiled at their classmates' misfortunes under the short rule of the seniors.

In the freshmen boys' beauty contest, Stanley Kajka won the audiences' approval and walked off with first prize.

Class Officers Play An Important Part In School Activities

Student Council has been very active this year. During the fall several members of our Student Council visited Monson High School to see how other councils function. Also at Christmas time they organized an assembly which was enjoyed by faculty and students. The Council also sponsored a successful dance. This year the Student Council has also been working on revising the present dress code. After many meetings with Mr. Knight and the School Committee, they have finally put the code into a form that was suitable to be sent before the School Committee.

Timothy Daggett, president of Student Council, leads a busy life.

The Student Guides help seat the students and maintain order during assemblies.

Extra Duties Are Important In School Procedure

This year's Library Aids are Jean Pomeroy, James Ross, and Amy Edwards.

The Library Aids are important in the function of our studies. They keep an orderly account of all books and records for the convenience of their fellow students.

The Student Guides help our school run smoothly. They are "on duty" between classes and make sure everyone is going in the "in" door and has his shirt tucked in. They also have more serious duties. When there is a fire drill the Student Guides check the rooms, make sure everyone is out, and then close the fire doors. Mr. Tonet, the vice principal, supervises these Student Guides in their duties.

Robert Scott is on duty.

Congeniality Is Shown In Tattler Work

This year we have had a great group of students helping on the yearbook staff to put into pictures and words the story of our school activities. Although we have had to do some fast working at times, we have all tried to keep up our spirits. The personality of the students is represented in the make-up of the yearbook. We try to cover all activities throughout the school year. It is our hope that the material covered will interest the students and faculty, as well as outsiders.

Analect And Film Club Are Credited With Many Successes

The first year of Williamsburg High School's Film Club has been one of surprises and disappointments. At the beginning of school, the club undertook the task of setting on film a musical interpretation of Everyman's Day. A current idea is to illustrate Virginia Wolff's short story "A Haunted House." Experience is still the key factor to the success of the club, but the enthusiasm shown by the members assures much progress in the future.

Analect improved this year in quality and expanded in scope. The Analect staff edited, printed, and sold the first issue, but collaborated with the office machine class in the production of the last two. Thus the staff was able to spend more time and care in proofreading and editing, while the office practice class demonstrated their technical skills. Analect was a success this year as a result of student interest, staff and office practice class competence and the concerned guidance of the faculty advisers, Mrs. O'Donnell and Miss O'Day.

The cast of TWELVE ANGRY JURORS put much practice into making the play a success.

Burgy High Has Had Another Successful D

Have you ever wondered what goes on in a jury room? TWELVE ANGRY JURORS, an adaptation of the three-act play TWELVE ANGRY MEN by Reginald Rose, was presented at Williamsburg High in the fall of 1968. The play is a tense, suspenseful drama concerning twelve jurors faced with determining the guilt or innocence of a boy accused of murder. The wrathful jurors were played by Richard Loomis, Douglas Vile, Judith Connell, David Shea, Betsy Feiker, Maureen Boyer, Carolyn Madison, Mary Ann Karowski, and Margaret Molloy. Brian Rapalee and Robert Scott took the parts of clerk and judge, and the guard was played by Timothy Daggett. The excellent and patient direction of Mrs. Halberstadt and Mrs. O'Donnell made the exciting story come alive on stage and was reflected in the enthusiastic audience, which showed that Burgy High had had another successful dramatics season.

Skirts swirled, hands clapped, and laughter rang out as Williamsburg High School presented, under the able direction of Mrs. Kenneth Bowen and Mrs. Robert Rapalee, Lerner and Lowe's "Paint Your Wagan", a story of the California gold rush.

Through the cooperation of the students, the show was an outstanding success. Playing to a full house, the cast, singers and dancers alike, showed spirit and enthusiasm. We know now that we are capable of producing a performance of nearly professional quality.

Everyone Enjoyed

Last year Charlene Parrow was chosen queen. Members of her court were Marilyn Messick, Judy Connell, Gloria Bushee, and Ann Kellogg.

The Whale Inn, transformed into a romantic garden, provided a perfect setting for the Junior-Senior Prom of 1968. On May 10, 1968, smiling girls and their handsome escorts danced through the evening in an atmosphere of "In the Days of Wine and Roses." The long awaited moment arrived, and Charlene Parrow was chosen to reign as the 1968 queen. Her court included Marilyn Messeck, Judith Connell, Gloria Bushee, and Anne Kellogg. An overwhelming success, the 1968 prom will long be remembered by all who attended.

The Debate Team Displays Enthusiasm An
Effor

Richard Loomis stops Edward Parsons to wish him and the rest of the Debate Team good luck at the debate meet.

This year's debate resolution was: Resolved that the United States should establish a system of compulsory service by all citizens.

The Debate Team, under the direction of Mr. Peter Stradinski, displayed a great deal of enthusiasm and effort during the 1968-1969 season. Pitted against many larger schools, Williamsburg placed eighth in the Connecticut Valley debate competition, beating Chicopee Comprehensive and Northampton High School, which placed ninth and tenth respectively. One important highlight of the debate season was a victory over Amherst which tied for second in the final positions and suffered only five losses out of twenty-eight debates.

Jonathan Montague, James Edwards, Amy Edwards, and Edward Parsons worked very hard to make this year's debate team one of the best Williamsburg has seen in years.

ATHLETICS

Varsity cheerleaders take a brief intermission during a time out.

The purpose of a cheerleader is to show sportsmanship and to promote school spirit. This is the image that the WHS cheerleaders showed during this year's basketball season.

Through their hard work and determination they have made one of the best J.V. and Varsity squads Williamsburg High School has ever produced.

Cross Country Ends Th

Raymond Smith displays the form that is typical of a cross country runner.

The cross-country team, with the absence of a strong runner like Warren Messeck, proved somewhat of a disappointment compared to last year's championship team, but nevertheless fashioned an impressive 6-3 overall record and placed tenth at the regional meet at U Mass. Included in the six wins were victories over Greenfield, Northampton, and Pioneer. Burgy was shutout by Southwick, the first whitewash of the cross-country team in three years. The other two losses came at the hands of Amherst and Turners Falls, two of the top three teams in Western Mass.

Co-captains Timothy Daggett and David Graves were the most consistent runners, placing in every meet, while James Taylor who started poorly, came on to place in seven meets. Freshman Peter Hale and John Clark, a junior, were the fourth and fifth men.

The J.V. team won three of five meets and finished fourth at the regional meet. Richard Scott, Robert Turner, and Donald Munson formed the nucleus for the future varsity runners.

Next year's squad will lose Daggett and Graves, but it is hopeful that the remaining runners will show the determination to win.

Despite Shortcomings

For the second time in the last three seasons the varsity basketball team finished with a losing record. It was primarily a rebuilding year with an entirely new varsity of three juniors and two seniors as starters. Inexperience, inconsistency, and lack of rebounding strength was evident in the 5-15 overall record. Despite its shortcomings in the win column, the 1968-69 squad exhibited a characteristic spirited play which nearly always kept the team in its games. Highlighting the season was a very rewarding seven point victory over St. Mary's on its home court, and heart breaking two-point losses to Precious Blood of Holyoke and Belchertown.

Next year's quintet will be sorely pressed to fill the vacancies of this year's seniors --David Bachand, leader in all offensive categories; Robert Beebe; and George Lavalle--but a host of vastly improved J.V.'s promises a varsity team loaded with potential for the 1969-70 season.

J.V.'s Have A Highly Successful Year

The 1968-1969 campaign was another highly successful year for the boys' Junior Varsity basketball team, as a definitely improved squad finished 16-3, two of the losses going to a talented Southwick team.

Chief reasons for the impressive record, which included at one point ten straight victories, were good shooting, rugged rebounding, aggressive defense, and a determined attitude by both the experienced starters and capable reserves. Highlighting the season was Samuel Williston's new scoring record of 239 points in a single season.

Although many of this year's starters will be competing for varsity positions next year, the J.V. outlook remains excellent to produce a strong nucleus for another successful year.

Thomas Hillenbrand outjumps his opponent.

More students participated in the intramural sports than ever before. The first intramural sport was the boy's basketball, in which four teams were playing for the championship. The final outcome was an overwhelming victory for the Junior Class.

The junior and senior high school girls also showed much interest in intramural sports by participating in the girls' volleyball match. Out of the fourteen teams, the seniors won the championship, but in an additional run-off between the juniors and seniors, the juniors proved the better.

On the intervening days of the same week, the boys also had a volleyball contest. In the final match the tension was great as the seniors played a close game with the competitive sophomores. The outcome was a victory of two points for the seniors.

David Bachand, Robert Scott, and Stephen Kopka do their share in helping the seniors on to victory.

Burgy Leaves With Good Recruits

The 1968 baseball season was mainly a rebuilding year for Burgy, with new personnel at nearly every position except for seniors James Brown and captain Robert Wilson at first and second bases. Inconsistancy in hitting and fielding due to inexperience paved the way for a 5-9 record.

Highlighting the season were a 4-3 victory over a strong Granby team and a convincing 10- win over eventual pennant winner St. Mary's of Westfield. George Lavalle proved to be our most valuable player, hitting a .404 clip and pitching several brilliant games, despite a 4-5 mound record.

Golf Team Has Winning Season

David Matuewezski watches the ball after a perfect slice.

The Golf Team had its first winning season in 1968, under the direction of Mr. George Munroe, the new coach. The team defeated Smith Academy, Gateway, and Hopkins Academy. The team should be as strong this year because most of the starters will be returning.

Junior high school classes are made up of students from many areas: Davenport School in Chesterfield, Haydenville Center School, Westhampton Center School and Williamsburg's Anne T. Dunphy School.

We have three sections for each grade and we rotate our class work to facilitate adjustment to the high school program of varied studies. About twenty students in these classes are on the Honor Roll.

We can proudly say that we have many students who participate in the school's extracurricular activities. Many boys are on the athletic teams. About ten made the track team and one made the Junior Varsity basketball team. A junior high school basketball team for boys is being formed. The girls' basketball team also has several members from the eighth grade class. About ten junior high students belong to the after school chorus, and some of last year's members were in the yearly school musical.

The senior high puts on a dance at least once a month, and many junior high school students attend these dances regularly. We think these dances are great and are glad that they are held.
